

Cancer does not discriminate, that is something Jakob learns early on in his life. After his two-year-old brother is diagnosed with Leukemia, Jake learns just how precious family is. Over the next two years, Jakes parents try to make life as normal as possible for both of their boys while facing the possibility of losing one of them. Shortly after receiving good news, Lukas is admitted to the hospital again and they find out his remission was short-lived. The Cancer is back and the only thing that might save him is a bone marrow transplant. During Lukes hospital stay, Jakob makes a new friend and finds out that she too is fighting the ugly monster. Jake does the best he can to stay strong for everyone else. His mask is firmly in place until his world comes crashing down around him. Will they find a donor match in time? Will Jakob be able to give the most precious gift of all? -- Life. How will he say goodbye to one person he loves while celebrating the life of another?
